Kodak Next-Press printing solutions

Kodak NexTreme DL-100 variable data software

Take advantage of the custom print resolution.

Variable data printing (VDP) provides higher resolution than custom reproduction with amazing printable area opportunities for print producers. NexTreme DL-100 variable data software is an easy-to-use, efficient way to create the high quality digital variable data. It integrates data into your current workflow to quickly create a variety of print materials with variable text, images, and addresses from a single data file.

Kodak NexTreme DL-100 variable data software is an Adobe Acrobat plug-in that cost-effectively manages your printing investment by saving on waste, speed, and change-over. It also provides complete Web 2.0 integration, allowing you to design and print VDP files generated from the same design strategy. QuickChange is the only plug-in to create VDP files already using the most common productivity tools.

Solve your needs today and in the future.

Print today with NexTreme DL-100 software, and you'll be ready for tomorrow. The software supports a wide range of workflows. The software supports many different print formats, including:

- Direct Mail
- Direct Response
- Direct Marketing
- Direct Advertising
